

Discussion Task Sheets

You live the city-state of Florence in 1350 AD. The Luceia family has provided money to pay your living expenses. Your only job is developing your gifts of art. While you are a strong Catholic and have strong faith in the church, you are interested in the new world around you. Traders from around the world talk about new ideas from the Middle East and China. What would be the subjects of your efforts?

You live in Northern Europe in 1500 AD. Feudalism is ending, as the recent growth of your town shows. Kings are becoming strong rulers and there's less fighting between Lords. For the most part, the only way people can learn things is through the Church or the Nobility. You have heard about people in the city-states of Southern Europe writing and painting for their livings. You want to paint and write too. What would be the subjects of your efforts?

You live the city-state of Florence in 1350 AD. The Luceia family has provided money to pay your living expenses. Your only job is developing your gifts of art. While you are a strong Catholic and have strong faith in the church, you are interested in the new world around you. Traders from around the world talk about new ideas from the Middle East and China. What would be the subjects of your efforts?

You live in Northern Europe in 1500 AD. Feudalism is ending, as the recent growth of your town shows. Kings are becoming strong rulers and there's less fighting between Lords. For the most part, the only way people can learn things is through the Church or the Nobility. You have heard about people in the city-states of Southern Europe writing and painting for their livings. You want to paint and write too. What would be the subjects of your efforts?